The Circulation of the DAILA APPEAL is larger than that of the Daily City Press Combined.

NEW DRESS OF THE APPEAL. As will readily be observed by our constareaders, the APPEAL appears this morning in a full dress of new type. Its typographical exe cution is now quite as good, perhaps, as that of any other journal in the South, being quite an improvement on what it has been for several months past. THE SHIPMENT OF COTTON AGAIN. The shipment of cotton by the planters to this city, is becoming an intelerable evil, and so rapidly is it increasing, that the Military Board have been forced to take the matter under advisement, and have interdicted its further transmission until permission may be given by and Hydo sixty. Each of these mills cost an special order in the future. By reference to the card of their chairman, toned in another column. it will be seen that planters are appealed to not to make any more shipments for the present. "Should it be persisted in." they say, "the military authorities will be evampelled to order the cotton to be returned to the country at the owner's expense." We have repeatedly called the attention of coaton planters to the necessity of conforming to the government policy on this subject, and although the action of the Military Board in reference to it may not, technically speaking, belegitimate, we doom their order both proper and opportune.
